(8) "Superintendent" means a Superintendent of a Borstal Institution appointed in such manner as may be prescribed.

3. Establishment of Borstal Institution :-

The Borstal Institution, in which orders of detention passed under this Act are to be served shall be the Borstal Institution.

4. . :-

Omitted]

5. Power of courts to pass a sentence of detention in a Borstal Institution in the case of a convict under twenty-one years of age in lieu of transportation or rigorous imprisonment :-

(1) When any male person less than twenty-one years of age is convicted of an offence by a court of session, a Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, or a Magistrate of the first class, or is ordered to give security for good behaviour and fails to give such security, and when by reason of his criminal habits or tendencies or association with persons of bad character it is expedient, in the opinion of the Judge or Magistrate may, in lieu of passing a sentence of transportation or rigorous imprisonment, pass an order of detention for a term which shall not be less than two years and shall not exceed seven years when the order is passed by a court of session or the Magistrate specially empowered under section 30 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and shall not be less than two years nor exceed three years, when the order is passed by a Magistrate of the first class not so empowered.

(2) When any Magistrate, not empowered to pass such order, is of opinion that an offender convicted by him is a person in respect of whom such orders should be passed in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1), he may, without passing any sentence, record such opinion and submit his proceedings and forward the accused to the District Magistrate to whom he is subordinate.

(3) The District Magistrate to whom the proceedings are so submitted may make such further enquiry (if any) as he may deem fit and pass such order for the detention of the offender or such other sentence or order, as he might have passed if the trial had been held by him from its commencement.

6. Special powers of District Magistrates :-

When any male person less than twenty-one years of age has been sentenced for an offence by a Magistrate to rigorous imprisonment, or when ordered by a Magistrate to give security for good behaviour has failed to give such security, and has been committed to or confined in prison and no appeal has been preferred against such sentence or order within the time prescribed by law and when by reason of such person's criminal habits Or tendencies or association with persons of bad character it is expedient, in the opinion of the District Magistrate, that he should be detained, the District Magistrate may order that such person shall, in lieu of undergoing imprisonment, be detained for a period not less than two years nor more than three years.

7. Detention of prisoners confined in the Borstal Jail :-

If it appears to the Chief Commissioner that any male person less than twenty one years of age who having been sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for an offence or having been committed to or confined in prison for failing to give security for good behaviour is at the time of the commencement of this Act confined in the Borstal Jail, should for the reasons described in sub-section (1) of section 5 be detained, the Chief Commissioner may direct that he be detained for a period not exceeding the residue of sentence or of the period for which security was required, as the case may be, provided that such order shall be subject as regards the period of detention to any order passed on appeal against or revision of the sentence or order of commitment or confinement in prison.

8. Power of Superintendent of Jail to present prisoner less than 21 years of age before District Magistrate for detention in a Borstal institution :-

Whenever it appears to the Superintendent of a Jail that any male person less than twenty-one years of age sentenced to transportation or rigorous imprisonment for an offence or committed to or confined in prison for failing to give security for good behaviour should for the reasons described in sub-section (1) of section 5 be detained, he shall cause such prisoner to be produced before the District Magistrate in whose jurisdiction the Jail is situated, and if the District Magistrate after making such enquiry as he may deem proper or as may be prescribed is satisfied that the prisoner should for the reasons described in the said sub-section be detained, he may order the prisoner to be removed from Jail and detained for a period equal to the unexpired term of the transportation or imprisonment to which he was sentenced, or of the period for which security was required from him, as the case may be

9. When action may not be taken under section 8. No order shall be made under the provisions of section 8 :-

(i) until the time allowed by law for the prisoner to appeal has expired or if an appeal has been preferred until such appeal has been finally decided; or

(ii) if an application made ori appeal or otherwise to have the sentence altered into an order of detention, has been rejected by an Appellate Court or the High Court; or

(iii) in the case of any person who has been sent to a Reformatory School in accordance with the provisions of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1897 (VI of 1897).

10. Application of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and the Indian Limitation Act, 1908 and provisions for appeal and revision :-

(1) Subject to the provision of sub-section (2) of this section the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, relating to appeal, reference (VIII of 1898) and revision and Articles 154 and 155 of the Indian Limitation Act, 1908, shall apply in the case of an order of detention passed under section 5 as if the order had been a sentence of imprisonment for the same period as the period for which detention was ordered.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in section 23 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, when a person who at the time of the conviction was less than twenty one years of age has been convicted of an offence, or when such person on being ordered to furnish security for good behaviour has failed to furnish such security, an Appellate Court or the High Court in the exercise of its powers of revision, may in pursuance of sub-section (1) and the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, and after making such inquiry as it may deem fit, alter a sentence of imprisonment or an order of commitment to a person under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure to an order of detention, if for reasons described in sub-section (1) of section 5, it considers such alterations expedient, and may alter an order of commitment to prison under section 123 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as the case may be, provided that the sentence of imprisonment, order of commitment, or order of detention, shall not be in excess of the powers of the trial Magistrate or court.

(3) Any person who has been ordered to be detained in a Borstal Institution under the provisions of section 6 for a period to expire after the term of imprisonment to which he was sentenced would expire had the order not been passed, may, subject to the provisions of sub-section (5) appeal to the Sessions Judge, and the Sessions Judge may either confirm the order or set it aside and restore the sentence of imprisonment or if the order is for more than two years reduce it to a term not snorter than the residue of imprisonment to which the offender was sentenced.

(4) Any person ordered by a Sessions Judge under the provisions of sub-section (3) to be detained for a period to expire after the term of imprisonment to which he was sentenced would expire had such order not been passed, may subject to the provisions of sub-section (5), appeal within thirty days of the order to the High Court and the High Court may pass any such order as the Sessions Judge might have passed.

(5) An appeal shall not lie under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) against a conviction or on any finding of fact but only on the order appealed against as illegal, or unduly severe.

11. No person who has been once detained to be detained again :-

The person who has been previously detained for the whole period prescribed in an order of detention or who has been transferred to jail under this Act, shall again be ordered to be detained.

12. Release on furnishing security :-

Any person detained for failure to furnish security shall be released on furnishing such security.

13. Enquiry to be made regarding the age of the offender before the passing of an order of detention :-

(1) Before passing an order of detention under this Act the Magistrate or Court, as the case may be, shall enquire or cause enquiry to be made into the question of the offender, and after taking such evidence (if any) as may be deemed necessary or proper shall record a finding thereon.

(2) A similar enquiry shall be made and finding recorded by every Magistrate not empowered to pass an order of detention under this Act before submitting his proceedings and forwarding the accused to the District Magistrate as required by sub-section (2) of section 5 of this Act.

14. Magistrate to give grounds of his opinion before ordering detention :-

When any Magistrate, District Magistrate or Court orders an offender to be detained he or it, as the case may be, shall record the grounds of his or its opinion that it is expedient that the offender be detained.
