Provision 2nd.--and conditions of tenure legally observable. and provided that there be nothing in the conditions of the tenure which cannot be observed without a breach of the laws of the land, or the rules of public decency.

Provision 3rd.-- and grant not revoked, disallowed or altered And provided that the grant was not afterwards revoked or disallowed, or an alteration of its terms ordered or recognized by a competent authority.

3. Continuance of holdings exempt or partially exempt for sixty years before British rule

All lands uninterruptedly held as wholly or partially exempt from assessment for a period of sixty years before the introduction of the British Government, and then in the authorized possession of a grandson in male descent or male heir of the body of such grandson, of the original grantee, shall continue to be so held so long as there shall be in existence any male heir of the body of the person who was incumbent at the introduction of the British Government, tracing his lineage from such incumbent through male heirs only.

4. Continuance of holdings so exempt for forty years.

All lands uninterruptedly held as wholly or partially exempt from assessment for a period of forty years before the introduction of the British Government, and then in the authorized possession of a son, or male heir of the body of a son, of, the original grantee, are to be continued for one succession further than that of the person who was incumbent at the introduction of the British Government, that is, until the death of his last surviving son.

Provision 1st.--Authorized possession how proved.-- The authorized possession contemplated by rules 3 and 4 does not involve the necessity of proving any specific authority from, or recognition by, the Government or paramount Power, The mere entry of the holding, as continued in the genuine accounts of the district-officers (even in those not audited and passed by the Government of the time being), will be sufficient to bring it under the heads of " uninterrupted " and " authorized " so far as regards the purposes of this rule : Provided only that there are no entries in the Collectorate-accounts which show that the holding of such lands exempt as aforesaid must have been unauthorized) by the Government or paramount Power.

Provision 2nd.-Prescriptive right of claimant when admissible-.If there be no evidence forthcoming to disprove a claimants assertion that his holding has been undisputedly enjoyed for the number of years and decents requisite to fulfil the conditions of rules 3 and 4 respectively, his prescriptive right shall be admitted.

Provision 3rd.--Introduction of British Government when to date-in territories late of Peshwa.- The introduction of the British Government is to be reckoned from the time the East India Company became the Government or paramount authority over each district as regards its inams. In the territories ceded by or conquered from the Peshwa, therefore, whether Khalsat mahals or saranjams, etc., held exclusive of inams, etc., the introduction of the British Government will date from the close of that of the Peshwas.

5. In independent principality or jagir more ancient than Peshwas Government

But in case of the lapse of an independent principality, or of a jagir more ancient than the Peshwas Government, and over the inams of which he did not claim any authority, the introduction of the British Government should be reckoned only from the date at which the general management of the districts may have come into the hands of the Company ;

Disposal of question as to date of East India Company acquiring Government and in case any question shall arise as to the precise date when the East India Company became the Government over any district, or when the general management of any district came into their hands, such questions shall be referred to and determined 5[by the 6[State] Government] in the manner prescribed by provision 1st, rule 1.

76. Land resumable on demise of incumbent.

Land held as wholly exempt from payment of revenue, or on partial assessment, the possession of which is not continuable under the preceding rules, is to be resumed on the demise of the incumbent.

Provision 1st.--Extension of life tenure of holding of which incumbent died before British rule.

In case the incumbent at the time of the introduction of the British Government may have died, the permission to hold for life is to be extended to the person in whose name the land may be continued, when the investigation is commenced, if there be no fraud apparent, nor other reason for withholding this indulgence.

Provision 2nd.-Resumption of land held by fraud-When land is evidently held by fraud recently committed (as when an inam which was resumed under the late Government has been re-occupied under the present Government without authority, or as when a pretended inam is found to have originated since the introduction of this Government with the connivance of district or village-officers, it shall be at once resumed, not being continuable under this or any of the preceding rules.

7. Continuance of holdings for support of mosques, temples, etc.

All lands held for the support of mosques, temples, or similar institutions, of the permanent character of which there can be no doubt, are to be continued permanently, even though their permanent continuance may not have been expressly provided for when they were granted.

Provisions 1st, 2nd and 3rd.-Corresponding provisions of rule 2 applied.-The same as the corresponding provisions of rule 2 of this Schedule in those cases in which title-deeds or other records proving the circumstances of the original grant, or its specific recognition by competent authority, are forthcoming.

Provision 4th.-Effect of enjoyment for forty years where no proof of grant forthcoming.- When there is no proof forthcoming to show whether or not an inam, coming under the provisions of this rule, was granted, or even specifically recognised, by a competent authority, still, if it has been undisputedly enjoyed for a period of forty years before the introduction of the present Government, it shall be permanently continued, and enjoyment proved by the mere entry of the inam, as continued in genuine accounts of the district officers (even in those not passed by the Government of the time being), is to be considered sufficiently "uninterrupted" to give an inam the benefit of this provision, if there be no entries in the Government accounts which show that it must have been unauthorised by them.

Provision 5th.-Prescriptive title when admissible where records do not go back enough to test enjoyment for forty years-If the forthcoming records do not go far enough back to test the existence of enjoyment of the duration contemplated in provision 4th as establishing full prescriptive title in such inams, still, if so far as they do go, they are not opposed to the claimant's assertion that sufficient enjoyment has taken place, the prescriptive title of the inam shall be admitted according to his assertions, unless there be other evidence forthcoming to disprove them.

Provision 6th.-Rule where not applicable.-The peculiar advantages of this rule shall not apply to the holdings of individuals in their own names for the performance of ceremonial worship, claims to which must be decided under the rules for personal claims.

Provision 7th.-Adjudication of certain claims coming under rule.-When claims of the denomination coming under this rule are found to be unsupported by proof of original valid title, and are proved void of sufficient prescriptive enjoyment, they are to be adjudicated according to, rule 6.

8. Continuance of holdings by official tenure meant to be hereditary.-

All lands authorisedly held by an official tenure which it is evident from local usage was meant to be hereditary, and has been so considered heretofore even though there be no sanads declaring it to be so,-for instance, inams which form the authorised emoluments of any hereditary office, as of kazis, village joshis, etc., and are not merely personal,--are to be continued permanently.

Provisions 1st, 2nd and 3rd.-Corresponding provision of rule 2 applied.-The same as the corresponding provisions of rule 2 of this Schedule in those cases in which title-deeds or other records, proving the circumstances of the original grant or its specific recognition by competent authority are forthcoming.

Provision 4th.-Continuance of inam enjoyed as official holding during period covered by evidence though grant or recognition not proved.- When there is no proof forthcoming to show whether or not an inam, coming under the provisions of this rule, was granted or even specifically recognised by competent authority, still, if it has been undisputedly enjoyed as an official and not merely personal, holding from the earliest period to which the forthcoming evidence does relate, it shall be continued permanently as official emolument, unless the claimants own statement renders this course improper.

Provision 5th.-Exemption from rule of emolument for certain services to State.- The provisions of this rule are not in any way to apply to emoluments continued for service performed to the State, as the service watans of desais, sardesais, nadgaudas, deshpandes, patels, kulkarnis, mahars, talavaras, whose claims are to be disposed of according to the rules which are or may be established for the regulation of such holdings.

Provision 6th.-Length of enjoyment by itself does not entitle to benefit of rule.- It is to be understood that mere length of enjoyment of lands as inam by an official person is not itself of sufficient to entitle a claim to be brought under this rule.

Provision 7th.-Benefit of preceding rules when allowable.- If a holding claimed under this rule be found incapable of permanent continuance under it, the claimant shall be allowed the advantages of any of the preceding rules of this Schedule which may be applicable to his case.

9. Provision for widows of last incumbents of resumed holdings

On the resumption of any lands under the rules of this Schedule, a moiety or other portion may be continued to the widows of the last incumbents during their lives in cases of proved poverty and destitution.

Provision 1st.-Continuance to widow and sole heir of holder of hereditary-personal Inam.- In the case of a holding which is recognizable as an hereditary personal inams the widow of a proprietor who dies without surviving male issue or other heirs to whom his inam will of necessity descend, is by right his sole heir and during her, life the inam cannot be regarded as having lapsed to 8[Crown] : it should, therefore, in such a case, be continued undiminished during the widows life.

10. Exception of certain tenures from application of rules

These rules shall not be necessarily applicable to jagirs, saranjams or other tenures for service to 9[the Government], or tenures of a political nature, the titles and continuance of which shall be determined as heretofore under such rules as 10[the 11[State] Government] may find it necessary to issue from time to time.

11. Modification in favour of claimants and interpretation of rules

Any of these rules may be relaxed in favour of claimants under instructions from 12[the 11[State Governments], in 13[which] shall also be vested the power of interpreting the precise meanings of any of the rules respecting which a question may arise.
