SCHEDULE 1 :- SCHEDULE I

Orissa Animal Contagious Diseases Act, 1949

An Act to provide for the prevention and control of contagious diseases affecting animals Whereas it is expedient to provide for the prevention and control of contagious diseases affecting animals. It is hereby enacted as follows : Statement of Objects and Reasons.-- Control of contagious diseases is an important part of any programme of development of animal husbandry. The veterinary hospitals, and dispensaries already established or proposed to be established in the near future can handle the treatment of only a part of the diseased animals-. But the prevalence of contagious diseases is so great unless measures are taken to check at their sources, there is little hope of the programmes of development of animal husbandry ever yielding any ostensible result. The necessity for such measures was felt by the Animal Husbandry Wing of the Board of Agriculture and Animal Husbandry in India as early as 1939, and the Government of India had also recommended to all the Provincial Governments to take suitable action in the matter. A draft bill on the subject had also been circulated by them. The Provincial Government did not, however, till now consider it opportune to take any step in the matter firstly because of their limited finance and next because of want of qualified men required to enforce the measure. No further postponement is, however, possible now, because without adequate power in their hands Government cannot successfully work out the various animal husbandry schemes they have prepared in their post-war programme. They therefore propose to take power as in the annexed Bill. The approval of the Government of India to this Bill being introduced in the Legislative Assembly has been obtained. Among other provisions it is proposed to authorise control over animals which would cause infection and places from where infection would spread. [For Statement of Objects and Reasons, see Orissa Gazette, Part XI, dated the 21st January, 1949, p. 11, and for Proceedings in the Assembly, see Proceedings of the Orissa Legislative Assembly, 1949, Vol. IX, pp. 31-32.] Published in Orissa Gazette, Ext.
